

Mettler-Toledo DSC

This is a sensitive instrument to measure enthalpy change accompany any physical and chemical change in the sample. The temperature range of measurement is 150-1000 K.

This instrument is currently employed to measure heat capacity of fluoride and oxide samples.

DSC-1